

SCOTT WOODWARD

Chief Relationship Officer (CRO)

scott.woodward@meridian.coop

As the Chief Relationship Officer (CRO) of Meridian Cooperative, Scott oversees all strategy initiatives regarding Meridian's Vision 2025 strategic plan. Prior to Scott's CRO role, he held several roles within ATS (Applied Technology Solutions), with the most recent role of CEO since 2009. Before coming over to ATS in 2000, Scott held trust officer positions at both Wells Fargo and CitiStreet.

Scott's passion is engaging with our members to ensure their needs are being met in a timely and professional manner. He brings a focus on the implementation of new innovative offerings to enhance the company's suite of products and services. He currently leads the Enterprise Resource Group at Meridian. This team's intent is to spread subject matter expertise across the organization while also ensuring timely turnarounds on our member's critical needs.

Scott has led the advisory groups for both Meridian and ATS since 2005. This group, now called the Trailblazers, is focused on directing the Meridian Enterprise suites of products to meet both the national and local needs of our members. This team was instrumental in the creation of the new Meridian CIS and FIS platforms, the next generation of billing and accounting software tools that service the utility space.
